Natural Slab Signs are an excellent way to teach children letters, words, place names, landmarks, and so on.

They can be used in many places on a playground to identify places, concepts, plants, direction, activities, meeting places, and so on.

Signs are cut from Northern hardwoods, so they are hardy and weather well.

Bark is usually on the edges, but may fall off naturally as the slab dries out (which kids love to watch and encourage).

Signs can range in size depending on intended use.

This Slab Sign is blank, and comes with no letters so kids can create and paint their own signs, symbols, pictures, or words.

If you would like us to rout letters or numbers, we charge $1 for each.

Slab signs can be left untreated for a completely natural look, and to allow for custom painting, or they can be treated upon request with our safe, non-toxic, Thompson's Waterseal to preserve the natural colors and textures of the signs, while allowing the wood to breathe.
